1. From Idea to Business

Starting a business begins with understanding a real problem and creating a solution that customers value.

The simple formula

Problem → Customer → Solution → Value → Revenue

01 — Identify the Problem

Ask yourself :

- What problem am I trying to solve ?
- Who experiences this problem ?
- How are they solving it today ?
- Why is the current solution not enough ?

02 — Define Your Customer

Do not target “everyone.”

Define your first customer group by considering :

- Their needs
- Their frustrations
- Their buying behavior
- Their budget
- Where you can reach them

Customer Snapshot

My target customer : _____

Their main problem : _____

What they currently use : _____

Why my solution could be better : _____

03 — Create Your Value Proposition

Complete this sentence :

For [target customer],
who need [specific solution],
we provide [product/service],
that helps them [clear benefit].

04 — Validate Before Investing

Before spending significant time or money :

- Talk to potential customers.
- Ask about their real experiences.
- Test your offer with a small audience.
- Collect feedback.
- Improve your idea based on evidence.

Important

Do not ask only “Would you buy this?”

Ask about what people actually do, what they already pay for, and what problems they face.

2. Build Your Business Foundation

Once your idea has been tested, define how the business will operate.

01 — Define Your Offer

Keep your first offer simple.

- What exactly are you selling?
- What result does the customer receive?
- What makes your offer different?
- What is the starting price?

02 — Think About the Business Model

Identify the basics :

Business Model

Product / Service : _____

Target Customer : _____

Price : _____

Revenue Source : _____

Main Costs : _____

03 — Start Small

Your first version does not need to be perfect.

Start with a simple version that allows you to :

- Deliver real value.
- Get customer feedback.
- Test your pricing.
- Learn what needs improvement.

04 — Create Your Launch Plan

Week 1 — Discover

Define the problem, customer, and solution.

Week 2 — Validate

Talk to potential customers and test your assumptions.

Week 3 — Prepare

Build your first offer, pricing, and communication.

Week 4 — Launch

Reach your first customers, collect feedback, and improve.

3. Ready to Launch ?

Use this quick checklist :

- I can clearly explain the problem I solve.
- I know who my first customers are.

I have a clear value proposition.
I have spoken to potential customers.
I have tested my idea.
I know what I am selling.
I have an initial price.
I understand my main costs.
I know how customers will find me.
I know my next three actions.

Your Next Three Actions

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

Final Takeaway

You do not need a perfect business plan to begin.

Start with a real problem, understand your customer, test your solution, learn from the market, and improve as you grow.

Small steps create real businesses.
